

SOCIAL AND SUSTAINABLE ENTERPRISES

Master of Science in Entrepreneurship (MSE)

FSU
JIM MORAN COLLEGE
OF ENTREPRENEURSHIP

“The Social and Sustainable Enterprises program has been a life changing experience.

The professors have a wealth of industry knowledge and give you a well-rounded class experience where you learn practical skills for entrepreneurship and then actually get to apply them through the different projects and case studies.”

-Rebecka Phipps

Build businesses that create lasting value for people, the planet, and profit.

The online Master of Science in Entrepreneurship (MSE) with a major in Social and Sustainable Enterprises prepares students to launch, grow, and lead organizations that generate both financial success and meaningful social and environmental impact.

Through coursework in entrepreneurship, sustainability, innovation, risk management, and strategy, students develop the skills to hold future stakeholders accountable to the business case for sustainability.

Whether creating a new venture or transforming an existing organization, students graduate ready to lead businesses that deliver long-term economic value while making a positive impact on society and the environment.
